Business and Professional Women of Maryland (BPW/MD) Celebrate National Business Women's Week[®] with Fall Conference

Hagerstown, MD – Business and Professional Women of Maryland, the leading nonprofit advocate for Maryland's working women, is pleased to announce its Fall Conference from 12:00-2:00 p.m. on October 26, 2019, at the Ramada Plaza in Hagerstown, Maryland. The annual conference celebrates National Business Women's Week[®] (NBWW[®]) and honors BPW/MD's 2019 Woman of Achievement as well as other outstanding local women.

Founded in 1928, NBWW[®] is observed annually the third week of October. It recognizes the achievements of successful women in various careers and communities throughout the United States. BPW State Federations and local chapters invite all business and nonprofit organizations to take the opportunity to acknowledge the diverse accomplishments of working women on the economy and equality.

The public is invited to attend the October 26 conference at the Ramada Plaza, 1718 Underpass Way, Hagerstown, Maryland 21740. Following a lunch celebrating 2019's Maryland Woman of Achievement, the conference will feature a career development workshop called "Leading without a Title" and networking opportunities. Registration information is available at <http://www.bpwmaryland.org>.

BPW/MD promotes equity for all women in the workplace through education, legislation, and recognition. Membership is open to all women and men who support this mission.
